

LOVE AT SECOND SIGHT (Hali Hammer)

When first we met each other, neither looking for a lover
We chummed about and chatted all the day
We made our introduction, neither thinking of seduction
Nor any more than song or play

At first there was attraction and subliminal reaction
Vibrating sympathetic strings
But neither of us willing to really be fulfilling
The fate that interaction brings

But when we'd meet our eyes would greet - a minute too long
And our laughter would repeat - a little too strong
So when we sat together, oh how could it be wrong
When it felt so right?

Then finally intuition blossomed into full fruition
The spark became a fire bright
Which mellowed as it aged and now
We're on to the next stage
'Cause it was love at second sight.

(Instrumental, repeat from "But when")
